Fr. Dupont says "Jr Class Is Average"

At the request of Junior class president, Robert Donoghue, Rev. Gerald E. Dupont, Academic Dean, addressed the Junior class on Tuesday, in Austin Hall.

Fr. Dupont pointed out to the class that, on the basis of mid-year grades 83% of the class was in good standing. 13% made the Dean Honor List. The class has a total of 127 students.

The Dean pointed out that the Senior class had 49 men on the Dean's List and 89% in good standing. The Sophomore Class has a total of 90% in good standing, while the Freshmen have 82% of their members in good standing.

Pointing out that many of last year's Juniors were dropped for poor marks at the end of the year, the Dean emphasized that the same thing would happen this year. He warned that as Seniors next year, the class would be expected to set the example for the remainder of the student body.

When Fr. Dupont finished his prepared remarks he answered questions from the class, which ranged from criticism of the marking system to the reason for Graduate Record Exams.

Junior weekend chairman Bill Chiasson disclosed at the same meeting that about $900 was realized on the raffle.

Council At Odds Over Lecture Series Program

In a prolonged battle of parliamentary wits, the Student Council last Tuesday night could arrive at no plausible agreement on the question of a council sponsored lecture series on campus and finally adjourned leaving the topic hanging in a state of suspension.

It all began when Don Wehmeyer, one of a committee appointed at the preceeding meeting, reported that his committee had talked with Fr. Duford concerning the possibility of setting up a campus lecture series for the purpose of stimulating cultural interest amongst the student body. Wehmeyer reported that not only was the Dean of Men in favor of such an idea but that he had suggested the council conduct the Sodality lecture series program, which is already underway. The Dean offered to donate the sum of fifty dollars to such an effort if its scope were broadened to include city-wide advertising.

SODALITY PRESIDENT SPEAKS

After hearing this, Walt Bellcourt, president of the Sodality, pointed out to group that his organization had already inaugurated their lecture series and, although favoring a council sponsored program, he did not intend to relinquish his club's franchise (including Dr. Durick, Dr. Fairbanks, Dr. Rowan and others) from the current series.

Seniors Lead Scholars On Coveted Dean's List

Senior John Welch, Juniors Thomas Leavitt and Daniel O'Hear, Sophomore Richard Rung and Freshman Robert Paul are currently leading the student body in scholastic excellence with averages that soar into the high nineties according to the Dean's Honor List recently released for the first semester. These aforementioned scholars each possess the highest average in their respective classes but not without being closely contested by other members of the select group.

The Senior Class had the greatest percentage of its members attain the Dean's List as approximately one third of 148 fourth year men kept averages of 85% or better. Welch's high average of 95% is followed by John Seigal and Fred Ziter with 93.5%, Donal Flynn and Richard Narkewicz with 93.3% and Henrik Bredenberg and Howard Ross with 93%.

The Freshman Class was next in ranking on a percentage basis as 40 of approximately 251 Frosh or 16% reached the goal. Bob Paul's leading average is also 95% and second place is held by Joseph Gallagher with 93.8%. Joseph Merigo's 93.3% and James Moscatello's 93% also deserve honorable mention.

Tuition Up For Next Year

St. Michael's College plans to raise faculty pay and tuition cost in the coming year, it was announced today by the President, Very Rev. Francis E. Moriarty, S.S.E.

In a joint announcement to faculty and students, Father Moriarty said that tuition will be $300 a semester and general college fees $40 a semester. Residence hall fees will remain $300-$325 a semester. Fees, formerly included with tuition, in the General Scholastic Fee, will be separate this year. The total increase for board, room and tuition will be $98. The tuition increase is the first in five years.

Final details on the faculty raises have not yet been worked out, Fr. Moriarty said. The college, however, plans to supplement the income which will be available next year from the Ford Foundation grants.

Starting this year, summer session tuition fees will also increase from $12.50 per credit to $15.00. The usual 20 per cent discount for Vermont teachers and religious will remain in effect.

Here is a typical attendance at a weekday Mass at the beginning of Lent. Will the same number be present one month from now.

Dates Set For Three Company Interviews

The Alumni office wishes to announce that Seniors will again be interviewed by major concerns for future jobs. On March 5th and 9th, respectively, the Vic Chemical Company and New England Mutual Insurance Company will hold half hour interviews with interested fourth year men at SMC.

The Vic Chemical Company, a national concern, offers opportunities in a summer training program concerning advertising, sales, merchandising, engineering, scientific research and

Glee Club To Give Campus Concert Tomorrow Night

On this Sunday, February 26, the Saint Michael's College Glee Club will give a concert at 8 P.M. in Austin Hall. Proceeds from the admission fee of 25¢ will go to Bro. Augustus Gerard, Canadian Brother, who undertook studies at the college during the first semester and at present is teaching in Africa. The remainder of the funds gained will be for the good and betterment of the Glee Club.

NFCCS To Meet At Fairfield U.

At last week's N.F.C.C.S. Winter Council meeting held at Regis College, Weston, Mass., plans were laid for a big "N.F." weekend at Fairfield University. Included in the weekend will be Regional Family life and C.C.D. workshops and also a debate tournament with all of the Catholic Colleges in the region being invited to attend. Also in attendance will be national C.C.D. and Family Life officers along with delegates from some of the schools in the New York-New Jersey region.

It was also announced that a Regional Industrial Relations Workshop would be held at Providence College, March third. Terry O'Grady, Freshman class president, will speak on a panel following the guest speaker. A social is planned for the evening.

A Senior delegates forum on campus problems was a feature of the weekend, which also included the dispensing of the normal business of the Federation.

Mail placed in box outside Old Hall will be picked up at 5:15 P.M. each day

Sunday night's program will be similar to the concert given in St. Johnsbury, Vermont last Tuesday evening, February 14. Attended by approximately 800 people, music critics held this appearance in high esteem. The benefit of this event was for St. Joseph's Hospital located in St. Johnsbury.

A letter to President McCarthy this week said that the concert had netted $450 for the Sisters of St. Joseph who conduct the St. Johnsbury Hospital. Miss Holmes, regent for the Daughters of Isabella wrote: "We are still recalling with pleasure and gratitude the men from St. Michael's". The concert was favorably reviewed on the local paper's first page.

The voices of our Glee Club will be entertaining the student body on campus for the first time since the Christmas Concert of 1953. Then the number of members was about thirty-five as compared to the seventy choristers composing the club this year.

EVENING PROGRAM

Included among the different selections of the Sunday night array, the club will do a group of about six St. Michael's songs in especially hoping that the campus will be

Sophs Show Signs Of Life

A creature relatively unknown by many Michaelmen showed itself over the recent Winter Carnival weekend. This stranger - at least it seemed, heretofore, to be so to the second-year men - goes by the name of "class spirit."

Now usually when a class wins some contest it wouldn't rate a pat on the back in the editorial column. But the fact that this class is not particularly noted for its interest in campus affairs, rates its mention.

As you may or may not know by this time, the Sophs walked off with 25 points for the winning snow sculpture -- a very good likeness of Walt Disney's famed flying elephant "Dumbo." The points picked up by copping first place were almost double the total which the Sophs had managed to gather in the previous four months. It also served to move them out of the cellar in the race for "The Victorious Knight" trophy.

Although still far behind so far as the class with the most points is concerned, this may be the spark which could serve to ignite further successes by the 58'ers. And if the leaders continue to sit on their collective haunches as they did in the snow sculpturing, it is not outside the realm of possibility to see the men of Joe Lee do the impossible.

Certainly, after so many class projects have either failed outright or met with limited success because of lack of interest, it is indeed refreshing to see one carried to completion. Although the few "regulars" are still carrying most of the load, a definite reawakening of interest is noted in the rest.

If the class continues to come through in the future in a similar manner, it will have something more to remember than the fact that so far this year 85% of the disciplinary action undertaken by the Dean of Men has been against members of the Sophomore Class.

It is to be hoped that in coming inter-class activities that the Sophs refute the statement made by a Humanities teacher who made reference to "the quiet personality" of the class. The wealth of activities at this time provides an opportunity to retire his statement that the class has "the need to reveal to others that they have the stuff."

So we say "well done," Sophs, but lest you get swelled heads remember that there are still many points separating you from the leaders. A good showing in bowling, skiing, the debates and others would serve to cut this deficit greatly. Or even eliminate it altogether.

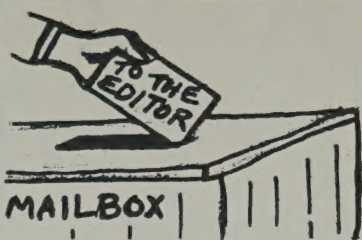

It is not too late to break down the reputation that the class has acquired. Graduate from the Hilltop with more to remember of your Sophomore year than the 85% Fr. Duford talked about.

We know you have the "stuff." Let's show it and keep the "snowball" rolling on to June and through another two years of college life - SOPHOMORES!

Council Will Be Changed?

At next week's Student Council meeting, the Constitutional Revision Committee is due to bring in their report of progress made to date. Chairman Bousquet hinted at this week's meeting that the newly-revised portions, which deal with the hold-over system and the whole method of council representation, will be radically changed. It would behoove every member of the student body to ready carefully the results of the debate (which will be printed in next week's issue of this paper).

This Council is growing up - expanding its area of activity, and consequently the old constitution does not work well enough to allow it to continue. This year's Council is finding it difficult to produce as much as it would like because of the representation. The membership is too small. The Club Presidents have much to do with their clubs, and their council activities must consequently be limited. It is hoped that a revised Constitution will eliminate most of the present difficulties and will help the Council to help the student body and the administration.

CRITIZES COUNCIL

Dear Mr. Leavitt,

As a student of St. Michael's College who is interested in the better-functioning of my Student Council, and also as Chairman of the New England Regional Student Government Commission, I would like to express my gratitude to the members of the Student Council for their noticeable silence following one of Hank Bredenberg's questions, last Tuesday evening. The President asked if there was any interest in a Student Gov't. Regional Workshop to be held Sunday the 26th, at Newton College of Sacred Heart in Boston. This workshop will be attended by fifteen or more Catholic Colleges and their Student Government Presidents.

Is not knowledge the tool of understanding? Is our council to function with no study or outside Catholic Influence to supplement its action in matters of College-level self government? I would have been almost overjoyed to hear even questions, but the matter fell completely flat after it left the lips of the President. I'm of the opinion that student representatives should be interested in learning how to serve those whom they represent better.

I hope that this applies to our council.

Very Sincerely,

Bill Willig

Scholarships For Connecticut Students

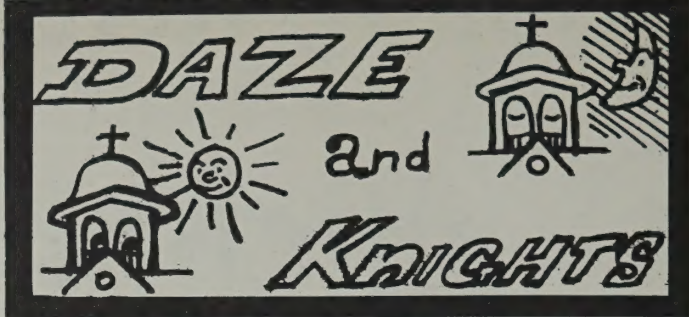

Registrar Thomas Garrett announced today that Catholic Graduates Club of Meriden, Connecticut has established a scholarship of two hundred fifty dollars (250.00) to be awarded to a deserving Roman Catholic student in the Meriden-Wallingford-Southington area.

The qualifications for this scholarship are:

1. All applicants must be residents of the Meriden-Wallingford-Southington area.
2. Applicants must furnish evidence that they are attending an accredited school.
3. Applicants must be of the Roman C Catholic faith and be under instruction in that faith either in college, or if attending a secular institution must belong to the Catholic Club in that Institution.
4. Applicants must hand in application and three letters of recommendation to the school scholarship representative by April 15. A transcript of marks must also be included.
5. This scholarship is designated for use only at Catholic colleges, nursing schools, technical schools, seminaries, and notiviates. The term "Catholic" refers to Roman Catholic and is intended to include only those institutions actively chartered by the Bishop of the diocese wherein these institutions are located.

For application blanks and full details about this scholarship, please see Mr. Garrett.

The Registrar.

While strolling across campus last weekend in a tour we conducted for the benefit of two Ivy League visitors, the aroma of the Chow Hall caught the attention of the fellows. After convincing them that it was not a lab, but a place to eat, we led the two interested collegiates through the door for "La Grande Tour." They showed more than a little interest in our noon time atmosphere. They were immediately struck by the variety and profundity of the discussions being held at various tables.

The first conversation we overheard was between a tall, black haired fellow affectionately referred to as "Big Mac," and a shorter black haired fellow, not so affectionately referred to as "Da Dog." Literature was their topic.

It went like this: Da Dog; "Hemingway's awright, I guess, but ma boy Spillane buries 'em." (Burying implies a superiority of some sort.)

Big Mac: "Yes, Dog but Hemingway..."

Da Dog: "Hey, I don' wanna know nothin-ma boy Mickey buries 'em."

We could see that due to the apparent conflict of viewpoints, a resolution of the debate would be unlikely, so we moved on. We took our trays and stepped up to the counter to receive our 12 o'clock mess (as used in the Armed Forces) by Mme. Dufresne. Searching for a reasonably clean, well-lighted place, we approached the waiters' table. The waiters' table invariably seats the very highest type of Michaelmen, the waiters.

Seated on the headwaiter's throne was Jack Eaton. We could only guess it was Jack. Actually, only the back side of his ears and neck were visible, the rest of his face was surrounded by a bowl.

Opposite the Eater was Robert Dumaine. Bob, effervescent as always, was seated with his head hanging back and his eyes rolled upward in that profound manner of his, while humming a piece from Verdi's "Aida." Bob's upward gaze was understandable when we noticed the two lumps of butter hanging from the ceiling. It was clear that Bob White and Dick Powers were conducting a contest to see which lump would remain on the ceiling the longest. At the end of the table sat Ray Naton throwing his heart and soul into a rendition of "Dungaree Doll" while keeping beat on a soup bowl turned upside down.

Father Scully observed that if one found the soup of the day distasteful, one should merely leave it alone, rather than pour it on the table. Across from Ray, Tom DiBiase was practicing his imitation of Humphrey Bogart. As was said, the waiters' table is the epitome of the Michaelman par excellence, so we made it a point to hesitate long enough for our Yale-y friends to drink in the truth and beauty of it all.

Up ahead, Bob Conlin was preparing a place for us by sweeping his leg across the table and removing from it thirty plates, four comic books and two Freshmen.

While eating, we again overheard several questions of import mulled over. Briefly, they dealt with: A. Would Anita Ekberg make a better wife than Marilyn Monroe?

B. Who has the best R & B outfit today?

C. Which is most effective way to cheat on a test?

Walking from the Chow Hall, unable to contain ourselves, simply bursting with the pride of being Michaelmen, we asked the two visitors how they were impressed. (Secretly, we knew they were awe-struck.) One of them answered that it was "Uh, quite an experience, yes." He then asked, "How do you explain the high level of thinking which has been so evident here this afternoon?"

We replied that it all lay in Integration. Naturally, they wanted to know what Integration was.

We explained, "Integration is the teaching of as little knowledge on as many subjects as possible. This will result in more students knowing less about more things. Hence, the student can speak with nearly complete ignorance on almost every conceivable subject."

After taking time out to ponder this novel theory of education, one of the Yale-ys remarked: "If you think you have anything on us, you're wrong! We're one of the few colleges in the country which conducts most of its good classes at a place like Morey's, you commoners." (St. Michael's, U. Conn, Princeton just haven't lived yet!)

Learn How Now

When graduate schools and employers are reviewing the capabilities of applicants, they are interested, first and foremost, in the candidates ability to understand and utilize his native tongue.

There are many ways to improve one's command of the language - reading, speaking and writing are the most effective measures; Especially writing.

You can take advantage of an excellent opportunity for improving your English, right here on campus. And what's more, it's interesting, challenging and enjoyable as a sideline. The MICHAELMAN needs staff members - especially reporters - to get the news out to the student body.

If you have an interest in this very gratifying extra-curricular activity, contact a member of the MICHAELMAN staff and within a week, you'll be reading your first contribution to the College newspaper as it appears in print.

Sabre Air Command Flight Forms At Saint Michael's

Forty outstanding basic AFROTC cadets at St. Michael's recently appeared before a Board of Inquiry and faced a barrage of questions as part of a vigorous interview. The purpose? To select the men who would make up the first Sabre Air Command flight to be formed in this country.

An honor society similar to the Arnold Air Society, the Sabre Air Command is presently being established on a national scale. Two separate organizations, the Sabre Flights and the Air Command Squadrons, are being combined into one new system and SMC is acting as a pioneer in the formation of its units.

CREATES ESPIRIT DE CORPS
In outlining the purpose of the Command, Cadet Captain Albert Sasseville, a member of the Board of Inquiry, pointed out that the principal objective of the flight will be to instill in basic cadets an "esprit de corps" which will thereby increase the effectiveness of the AFROTC program. This esprit de corps will become a prevalent feeling among the cadets through the close fraternization that will be created in the group by sponsoring various projects of a social nature.

The organization of the first flight of this honorary society here on campus can be traced to the efforts of Captain Kieran. He began by selecting two advanced cadets, Senior Alcide Parrell and Junior George Parreca, to act as advisers for the group and to start the ball rolling. These two men then in turn appointed cadets Albert Sasseville, Jack Aneser, Francis Pilch and Joseph Lee to serve as members of the Board of Inquiry. The task then facing this group was to select twenty-eight men who showed outstanding promise on the basis of their past performance in AFROTC from all the basic cadets at SMC.

INTERVIEW RUGGED
The process of elimination followed a set pattern. Each flight leader was authorized to nominate three members of his flight whom he felt fulfilled the criteria previously stated. These forty men then appeared before the rigid Board of Inquiry for an exacting interview which left many a basic cadet's head in a whirl. Those who were finally selected and who, together with the members of the Board will make up the flight, are:

Charles Allard, Paul Fisher, Joseph Haley, Richard Manning, H.J. Gretowski, Joseph McQuade, Paul Lennon, David Lynch, Ronald Deyette, Robert Shea, William O'Reilly, David Perry, J. Menninger, William Stallworth, John Monroe, Thomas Gibbo, Albert Brault, Joseph Fortin, Peter Feary, Herman Long, Charles Lafley, H.J. Buteau, Robert Cullinan, Ron-LaFleur, Michael D'Arcangelo, James Carroll, Robert O'Malley and John O'Brien.

Meetings of the flight will be held twice monthly and the first meeting will be for the election of officers. The flight will be led by Cadet Captain Sasseville and an executive officer, an operations officer, an adjutant recorder, a comptroller and a public information officer will be elected. When firmly established, all members will be authorized to wear a white leatherstrap as a florrage and also a service ribbon.

Tourist Spending Cure For Aid

American tourism has become a major source of revenue for the Free World, especially in Western Europe. Last year alone U.S. tourists spent a billion dollars in foreign lands and another $225,000,000 traveling on foreign passenger carriers.

At least $600,000,000 of this U.S. tourist bonanza poured into Europe's coffers. That's a lot of money. But it could be doubled, even tripled, if overseas travel were placed within the economic reach of the millions of Americans who want to travel abroad but can't afford it at present luxury rates of air travel. Mass tourism, if given the boost it needs, could easily become the best, most practical form of foreign aid and save all of us some tax money.

A recent estimate by Ralph T. Reed, president of the American Express Company tells the story. The head of the nation's largest travel organization said that U.S. 1955 tourist expenditures of $1,225,000,000 were "more than double the $455,000,000 our country spent during 1955 on all its non-military (economic) aid programs to overseas nations".

"In fact," Mr. Reed reports, "during the past year our travelers abroad contributed $100 for every $35 which the government spent in all its economic assistance programs."

Most economic and travel experts believe with Mr. Reed that 1955 overseas tourist spending will top last year's. The American Express president, for example, declared that "tourist expenditures abroad promise to play a major role in reducing U.S. foreign economic aid." The money we spend abroad to buy travel and recreation for our citizens constitutes one of our biggest and perhaps best contributions to foreign aid.

Mass tourism makes a good deal of sense. It has been advanced by North American Airlines, the nation's largest independent airline. This company believes that mass European-U.S. travel can be stimulated. North American has asked the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to fly the Atlantic starting this spring for 4 cents a mile. That would mean a one-way fare of $125 to Shannon, Ireland and $145.50 to Paris, or about half the lowest overseas air tourist rates now in effect.

Most travel experts contend this kind of a low-cost fare structure if generally adopted by overseas carriers--could double tourist spending in Europe during its first year and progressively increase it. It would mean that more travelers could afford to go to Europe within two-week vacation limits, and that they could spend more money abroad. This kind of multiplying tourist spending abroad could well reduce the need for and the cost of economic aid.

Strong public support can demonstrate to the CAB that there is a public demand and need for this low-fare overseas air coach service. Congress, already alerted by widespread individual and organizational inquiries, is itself bringing the merits of the plan to the attention of the Board.

Radio Club Provides Lab Experience

Through the combined efforts and experience of Dr. John Rowan and Mr. Robert Billups a new radio club, different and divorced from WSSE, has been established on campus. The purpose of the organization is to provide any interested knowledge of electronics, and its application in radio and TV.

WELL-QUALIFIED INSTRUCTORS
Dr. Rowan has continually maintained his interest in electronics since he taught it at the royal Canadian Air Force School in Montreal, and also at the Air Force School in Clenton, Ontario. Mr. Billups qualifications speak for themselves, as he is an instructor of physics in the science department. Both men offer their time voluntarily, and encourage any student to attend the club meetings, which are held in the ground laboratory in Science Hall every Thursday afternoon.

PURPOSE: MANY CREATIVE PROJECTS
The club was organized in October, and will continue indefinitely contingent on student participating. At present the membership is seventeen, generally science majors and WSSE staff members, but the club is able to expand and accommodate any interested parties. The immediate project now is the construction of a short wave radio set, which is a typical example of a club function. The work has been impeded slightly due to a difficulty in obtaining some intricate parts, but progress is definite. Many more interesting and instructive undertakings are planned for the future.

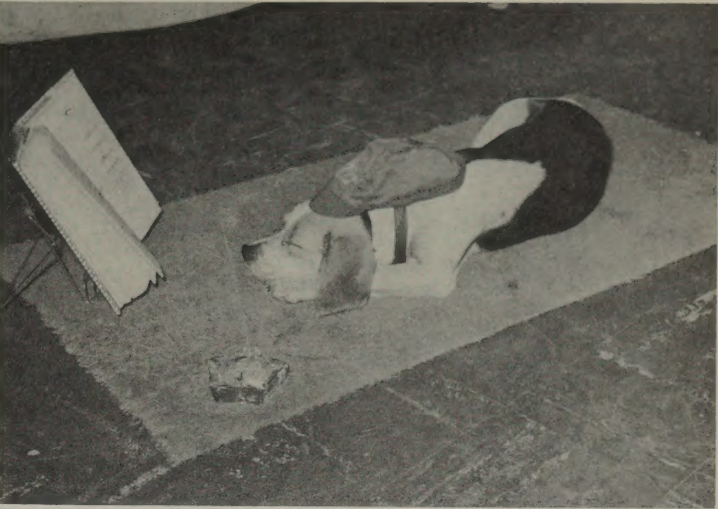

Marriage Team Studies At SMC

Now that both Mr. & Mrs. Jack Thompson have enrolled in a program of study at St. Michael's, nightly homework has become part of the daily routine in the Thompson household. Mrs. Thompson, formerly of Burlington, has recently enrolled in the evening course of Personal Psychology inquest of a degree from Trinity College. Mrs. Thompson is a graduate of Mt. St. Mary's Academy in Burlington, and is presently employed at Mary Fletcher Hospital.

Jack, a Senior at St. Michael's, is majoring in Political Science. A Marine Veteran, and former Sports Editor of this paper, he is also SMC's Sports Publicity Assistant.

Jack is a native of Staten Island, where he graduated from St. Peter's High School. He intends to go into the field of journalism after graduation. The Thompsons, were married last October 29 and are presently residing in Winooski.

"Michaelman" Banquet Set For May 7

The first annual "Michaelman" Awards Banquet has been tentatively arranged for May 7, Business Manager Paul Kenney, who is in charge of arrangements, announced today.

The entire staff as well as the President of the Student Council and the Dean of Men will attend the affair, at which awards will be given to staff members writing the best editorial, best feature and best news story of the year. Two other awards will also be made, one to the Senior who has contributed the most to the paper, another to a staffer of the business or circulation departments.

At the banquet, the Editorial Board will announce the appointments for next year, including Editor-in-Chief, News Sports and Copy Editors, Business, Advertising and Circulation managers.

"Tickets to the dinner will be given only to those staff members in good standing," Kenney said.

Class Debates Now In Finals

Four prominent local attorneys have been selected to act as judges in the 2nd Annual Interclass Debate Tournament. They will be: Probate Judge Kenneth Akey; Municipal Judge Edward Costello; ex-judge Joseph McNeil and Attorney John Harrington, President of the Young Republican Club.

All classes except the Seniors have yet to choose their finalists. The Sophomores will be chosen from among seven men: Jack Keating, George Latimer, Jim Dawson, Joe MacQuade, Joseph Fortin, Al Sasseville and John Steele. The Juniors have six men out Jack Kingston, Bill Chaisson, Bob Donoghue, Bill Leahy, Tom Johnson and Dan McCarthy. Dan Donovan and Gene Violet with two others to be chosen later are the Frosh candidates. The Seniors will have Charlie Randall and Hank O'Conner affirmative, and Fred Blaise and Jay Girroir, negative.

The students and faculty are invited to these debates which will be held on February 27, 28 and 29 at 4 P.M. in College Hall.

RUNG LEADS SOPHS

Third in line is the Sophomore Class who succeeded in placing 14% of its members on the honor roll. High man is Richard Rung with a 92.3% average and second position is filled by Michael Merri-gan's 90.6%. Thomas Barry with an even 90% rounds out the cream of the Sophomore scholastic crop.

The Juniors who succeeded in making the Dean's List receive an extra prestige as they are among the up-per 13% of their class. Thomas Leavitt and Daniel O'Hear are tied for top honors with averages of 93.3% while Art Kirwin follows next with a 92.1%. William Chiasson's 91.1% and Edward Kliff 91% also are among the Juniors' highest averages.

DEBATE ENSUES

Then started a round of verbal badminton which found the council evenly split on the issue. Tom Leavitt moved that the council, through the lecture series committee, go along with Fr. Duford's suggestion and invite Dr. Durick to deliver the first lecture of the series. This, thought some, would be against the spirit of the Sodality's efforts. The vote showed thirteen members in favor of the motion and eleven against it, with four abstentions. A question concerning the validity of the vote led to search of Roberts' Rules of order for parliamentary clarification. It was, they found, a valid vote.

RECONSIDERATION

Still, some members were in doubt and Jack Eaton moved that the motion be reconsidered. After considerable discussion as to the validity of Eaton's motion, Roberts' Rules again came to the rescue in the affirmative. So the original motion was served up a second time and Dan McCarthy amended it to strike out the phrase concerning coordination with Fr. Duford, feeling that the council should undertake the project on its own. This amendment was passed and discussion was just getting started when Henry O'Connor motioned that the meeting be ajourned. In a matter of seconds this motion was passed and the whole question was thereby left unsettled.

BELLCOURT OBJECTS

As they readied to leave, Bellcourt took the floor and termed the ajournment "ridiculous". Many were in agreement with him and felt with him and felt the issue should be settled then and there. But the motion to ajourn had been passed and the members, some relieved and some reluctant, headed for the Snack Bar.

OTHER BUSINESS

Jack Eaton motioned that "the budget of the Lance be frozen until, and if, the president of that club is readmitted to the council as a member in good standing." (Lance president Bob Battles has been dropped from the council roster because of unexcused absences.) This motion was passed.

Walt Bellcourt announced that the Sodality sponsored Shrove Tuesday dance netted a twenty-seven dollar profit.

Jay Tierneysucceeded in having a motion passed to the effect that the breakfast hours, during Lent, begin at 7:15 A.M. rather than 7:30 in order to relieve the crowded condition existing there after daily Mass.

Don Cook evoked a hearty and spontaneous round of applause when he reported that the Outing Club had "broken even" financially on the Winter Carnival weekend. The council went on record as congratulating Cook and Carnival chairman Frank Keane for a job well done.

come more familiar with them. At present the college is endowed with four Alma Maters and if at all possible, this concert will try to create among the student body an attitude of giving thought to the selection of a definite Alma Mater. The Alma Mater's include Mr. Naramore's "Close To Heaven", Mr. O'Bierne's "Hail St. Michael's", a rendition by Dr. Stoer and an arrangement by Mr. John Ponoghue. Dr. Stoer's version, which has been used by the graduating classes for a number of years and has been sung to the tune of "Auld Lang Syne", was recently adopted to a new musical arrangement created by the Doctor.

Also highlighting the entertainment will be a group of religious numbers which will include "Salve Regina", "Ave Maria", and "Jesus Walks This Lonesome Valley". A more modern display will be comprised of "John Peale", "Happy Wanderer", "Drinking Song", "Winter Song" and "Falling in Love with Love".

FOREIGN STUDENTS

Through the special efforts of the International Relations Club, a special added attraction to the evening's events will be a group of various foreign students of the campus singing a number of songs in English. This will display their achievement thus far in the mastery of the use of our tongue.

The club is currently preparing for various other future regional engagements and is especially concentrating on its appearance in the Spring Festival at Trinity College.

This weekend the club was asked to send its Varsity Voices to the St. Lawrence Winter Carnival. The trip depended on the availability of transportation.

State Officials Talk To Politics Club

St. Michael's College Politics Club heard from two of the state's top administrative officials at an open meeting held Feb. 23 in Science Hall 107 at 8 P.M.

Leonard W. Morrison, state tax commissioner, and W. Arthur Simpson, commissioner of social welfare, spoke on Problems of Public Administration at the invitation of Tom Johnson, president of the campus Politics Club. The moderator of the Club is Dr. Robert C. Spencer of the Political Science department.

While the meeting was sponsored by the club, it was open without charge to the general public. Morrison, from Bennington, and Simpson, from Lyndonville, had notable records in the State Legislature before being appointed to their present posts.

development, accounting or financial management to those interested in the above mentioned fields.

The New England Mutual Insurance Company is searching for trainees for group sales and management.

The United States Patent Office is scheduled to have representatives on campus just before these two companies. All Seniors who are interested in becoming trainees for patent work are advised to confer with these representatives on February 27.

Thomas J. Kenney, alumni secretary, stated that there are pamphlets and other reading material available now in the alumni office concerning the history and specific classifications of the various fields of many business firms.

These are only a small part of the interviews that are to be conducted during the remainder of the year. Numerous students in the past have been offered positions as a result of these conferences.

Middlebury

Plagued by poor shooting, the Knights had to come from behind three times to win. The Panthers, led again by the rebounding of big Tom Hart and the outside shooting of Cy Andfindsen and Charlie Sykes. John Hoops and Bob Wanger, put up a great fight, but their fouling cost them the game and with it a tie for the state crown.

The biggest lead that either team had was the nine point edge that the Jacobsmen took with six minutes left on the clock. Cy Andfindsen, Panther forward who was hampered by a knee injury, started the scoring and from the start it was evident that the Knights were in for a long hard-fought battle. The first half was a see-saw affair with both teams taking the lead only to lose it. But the Knights paced by Tommy Lemanowicz, who threw nine points in the second quarter, led at intermission 32-28.

At the end, timeproved to be a major factor. With over seven minutes to play and the Knights leading 51-49, Doc Jacobs was informed that the clock had stopped and although it showed 7:23 left there was actually only 7:10. The SMC coach immediately got the official timer to fix the time before resuming play. As it turned out Middlebury's Bob Wagner scored their last field goal with only two seconds remaining in the game. That extra eleven seconds might have made a difference.

KNIGHTS PULL AWAY

With six minutes left and the score tied 51-51, the Knights pulled away with nine points. A Cieplicki setshot, a field goal and two free throws by John Wegrzynski and two jumpers by Bill Kuchar did the trick! The Panthers never came back.

LEMANOWICZ LOOKS GREAT

The Knights shot 23 out of 51 from the floor for a .450 percentage. Cy Andfindsen, despite his knee injury was the high scorer in the game with 15 points. Little Johnny Hoops, who fouled out with only two minutes remaining, hit the strings for 12 while Sykes and Wagner each had 10. Tom Hart was held to 8 points by Wegrzynski.

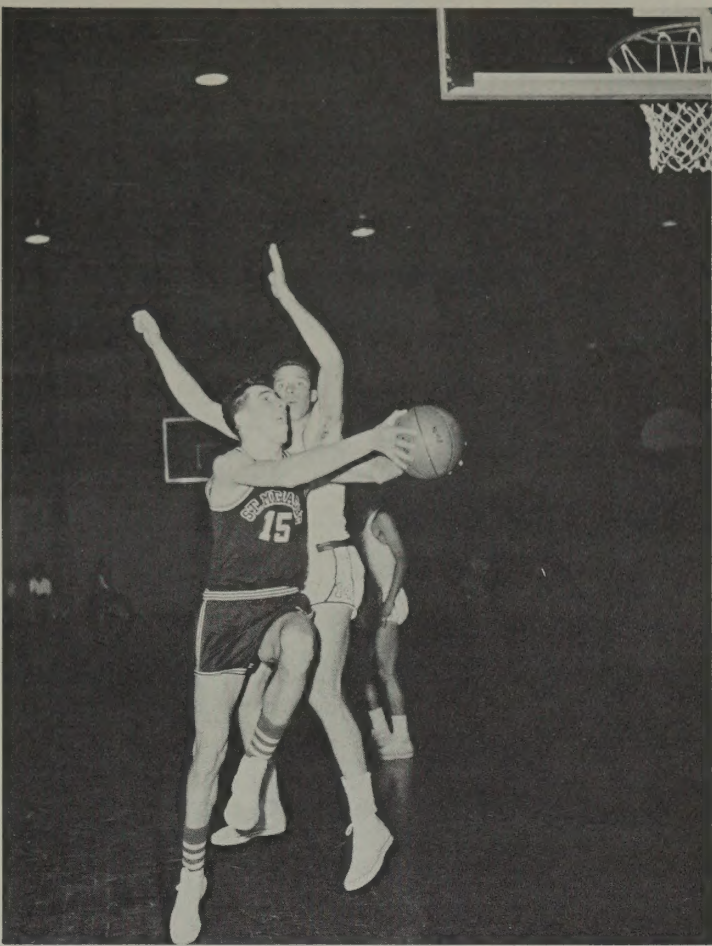

Bill Kuchar was high man again for the Knights with 14 although he had four that went in and out of the hoop. John Wegrzynski threw in 13 points while Lemanowicz, who played one of the best games of his collegiate career, rebounding excellently made 12. Cieplicki and Drew tied with 11.

LARGEST CROWD

Not only did the Knights win the state title but they distinguished themselves as the only team to beat the Panthers on their home court this year. In fact it was the first home loss for Middlebury since St. Michael's defeated them there last year at this time. On hand was the largest crowd to ever see a collegiate basketball at Middlebury. It was over 2,000.

The Panther's Captain Tom Hart, fails in his attempt to stop John Wegrzynski as he lays up an important two-pointer in the torrid action at the Middlebury Field House when the Saints walked away with the State Title.

JUNIORS GO DOWN TO TWO DEFEATS

The seemingly unbeatable Junior interclass basketball team suddenly went down to two quick defeats on successive Mondays.

The Seniors were the first to turn the trick with a fine, well earned 51-48 victory on February 13. Before this game the Juniors had gone through six interclass games with a loss.

However, the sharpshooting of Bill Leuchten and his excellent rebounding was too much for the Juniors.

Leuchten led the Seniors with 18 points. Jack Coffey did his share for the third-year men with 17 points to lead their attack.

This past Monday it was the Frosh who tripped up the Juniors 68-48. Hank Gretkowski topped everyone for miles around with 13 field goals and 10 foul shots for a total of 36 points.

Jack Coffey led the Juniors for the second straight game with 15 points. Bob Caprio had 12.

On the 14th, Gretkowski with 24 points again led the Frosh to a 70-49 slaughter of the Sophomores. Neil Shea also tossed in 15 points for the first year men while O'Neill took care of what little offense the small wonder that the Squires have met with such success.

Sophs could muster with 20 points.

Doc Jacobs will be pleased to be greeted by such a talented Sophomore group next year; but add to this list of players that of Hank Gretkowski who is ineligible to play Freshmen sports but who has been running opposition in the interclass league with his magnificent play, and you have the makings of a power house varsity in the near future.

OH YOU KIDS! LUCKY DROODLES!

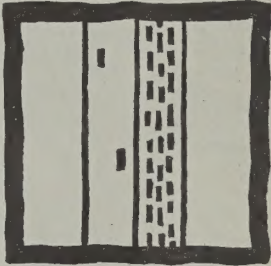

WHAT'S THIS? For solution, see paragraph below.

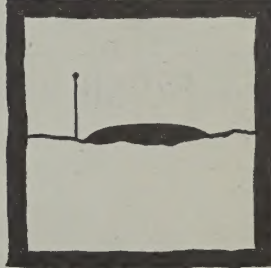

DROODLES—POCKET EDITION. There's a pocket edition of almost everything these days. Why not Droodles? This one's titled: Shirt pocket of Lucky Smoker. This smoker might give you the shirt off his back—but he'd sure hang on to that pack of Luckies. Reason: Luckies taste better. You see, they're made of fine tobacco—light, mild, good-tasting tobacco that's TOASTED to taste even better. Matter of fact, you'll say Luckies are the best-tasting cigarette you ever smoked! Better pocket a pack today!

SKIERS PLACE THIRD, WIN 2 MEDALS AT PAUL SMITH

The St. Michael's Skiers journeyed to Paul Smith's College, Saranac Lake, N.Y., this last weekend to compete in the annual Winter Carnival Intercollegiate ski meet.

DOWNHILL TAKES TOLL

The downhill race Saturday morning, run on Paul Smith's famous course, "The Funnel," took its vengeance on the skiers. Hampered by a steady downpour of sleet and freezing rain, Roger Rivard, Frank Moriarty and John Carleton piled up on the half-mile run, which was so fast and treacherous that actually no wax was needed. Rivard and Moriarty, outside of being shaken up by fall, sustained no injuries; but Carleton suffered a sprained ankle, which put him out for the rest of the meet. However, even taking these falls into consideration, the skiers copped third in the race, with Larry Austin and Phil Rossignol getting through the course with no falls.

The slalom held on Saturday afternoon, proved to be much slower because of a new fallen snow. Rivard, making a beautiful run, notched a spot in the top ten, followed by Moriarty, Austin and Rossignol, thereby retaining third slot as a team.

AUSTIN EARNS MEDAL IN X-COUNTRY

Larry Austin led the Knights to a second position in the cross-country race on Sunday morning. Austin slid through the grueling six mile course in 50:46" to take third place in the race. He was followed by Rivard, in fourth place with a time of 51:58"; Ray Flynn and John Roach. This particular course is part of an eleven mile Olympic Cross-Country course; and, according to reports, was a tough one.

RIVARD EARNS LAURELS IN JUMPING

Rog Rivard displayed so fine a form and style in the Jumping event, held on Sunday afternoon, that he was awarded third place in the event, with a total of 127.4 points. The second place slot was filled by Jacobs, an alternate member of the Canadian Olympic team, of St. Lawrence University.

This served to put the clincher on the third slot for the St. Michael's skiers.

ST. LAWRENCE THIS WEEK-END

This week-end will find the wood runners at St. Lawrence University for their annual Winter Carnival Ski Meet, which will be a fitting climax to the Ski Team activity for this season. Undoubtedly the toughest meet of them all, the Knights will be skiing against Dartmouth, Middlebury, Laval of Quebec among others. This meet will wind up the 1955-56 season for the skiers.

Roger Chapdelaine shows excellent form as he carries the colors of the Purple and Gold in a recent downhill ski event. The college skiers placed third in the Paul Smith Carnival last weekend.

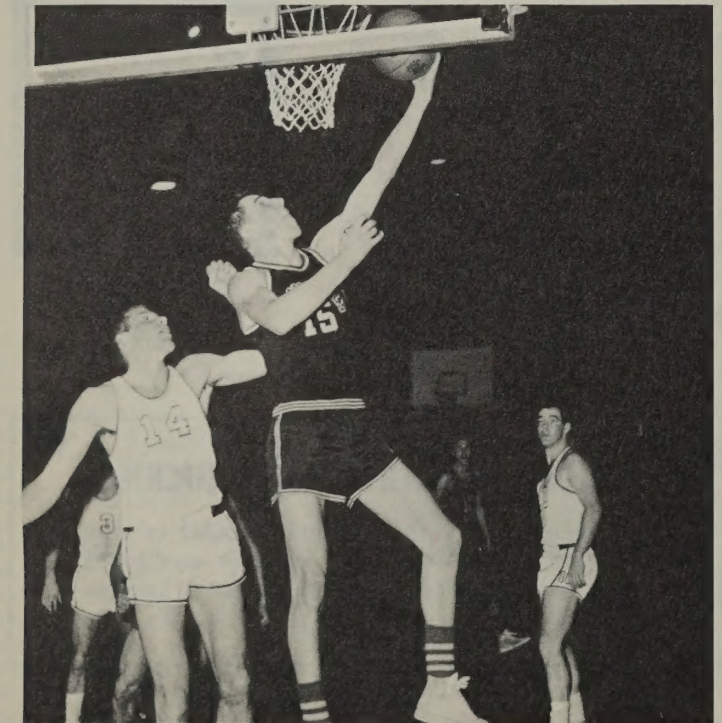

FROSH TEAM HOLDS 10-2 SLATE

The Purple and Gold Squires will end an impressive season when they encounter the Dartmouth Frosh at Hanover on Feb. 29. By the time this paper is distributed the Markeymen will have played the Frosh of Middlebury and Plattsburg State Teachers whom they both previously defeated. At the present the Frosh boost an impressive 10-2 record. Both of their defeats were administered by the University of Vermont Kittens.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR VARSITY

Coach Ed Markey has an

'Pickles' Wegrzynski goes around and under Middlebury's Tom Hart for 2 points in the Knight's 61-59 state championship win last Wednesday night. John held Hart to only 8 points while tossing in 13 himself.

SMC Rolls Over Larries, 90-66

The St. Michael's Purple Knights, notching their 14th victory of the season, romped to a 90-66 decision over St. Lawrence University in their last outing. The game was played last Thursday on the Larrie's home court at Canton, N.Y.

The Knights' playing deliberate ball through out the first half, led by only a 37-31 count at intermission. However, they came back strong with a good fast break offense to completely dominate second half play. This half saw the Knights throw in fifty-three points with the entire team seeing action.

Steady Bill Kuchar and reliable Bernie Cieplicki were high men for the Jacobsmen with 16 points each. Frank McCaffrey, Drew Denmead, John Wegrzynski, and Tom Lemanowicz also hit double figures.

Saunders picked up 18 points to lead St. Lawrence in their losing effort.

SENIORS, SOPHS TIE IN HOCKEY

The Seniors and Sophomores battled to a 4-4 deadlock in last Sunday's interclass hockey game. The game, originally scheduled for Saturday, was postponed until the following day because of the heavy snowfall which covered the rink.

Bill Halloran, Senior captain, turned out to be the game's individual star with three goals to his credit. Mike Latus tallied the other marker for the fourth-year men. The Senior's attack was seriously hampered by the slow ice condition following the heavy snowstorm. This fact, aided by the extra fine goal tending of Soph goalie, Doug Beattie, enabled the second year men to hang on to the game-ending tie.

Hector Foisy, with two Paul Roach and Phil Carr with one each were the goal-getters for the Sophomores.

The interclass hockey standings are as follows:

The Campus Colonel

By MARIUS B. PELADEAU

It might not have been the best game the Knights' played so far this season, but no one who saw the game could walk away without a fine set of ulcers.

We beat Middlebury, a fine team and on their own home court besides...And it took some great ball playing in the final five minutes to do it...If nothing else, it was the best team effort we have been fortunate to see in many a moon. It would be more than difficult to pick the outstanding player for the Purple Knights...Everyone put in their all and the result was what we could really term a "team victory"...Proof of this is to look at the box score and see how evenly the scoring was divided.

Congrats go out to all the new Vermont State Champs...to Tom Lemanowicz for some great rebounding in the second half...to "Pickles" Wegrzynski for his more than excellent bottling up of the Panther's Tom Hart...to Capt. Bernie Cieplicki; he never led the team better than Wednesday night...to steady Drew Denmead who was never steadier or cooler...to 'jumping' Bill Kuchar who led all SMC scorers with 14 points...need more be said.

While we're handing out pats on the back let's not forget Middlebury's Johnny Hoops...How far from the basket does he have to be before he misses one?...Finally congrats to 'Doc' Jacobs and his 'assistant' Ed Markey...It's rather obvious they've worked hard for this one.

Anyone who feels hardy and can brave the cold Vermont winter weather should take in the ice-boating out at Malletts Bay on Lake Champlain this Sunday. The event is part of the Burlington-Lake Champlain Chamber of Commerce Winter Carnival...The ice-boating will start Sunday afternoon. The event, over a fairly long timed course, is expected to attract many boats from out-of-town...These speedy craft can reach speeds up around 60 mph...

Horrors!...Tradition is being broken...It sounds impossible but a basketball player can actually be a 'student' also...Dick Rung, besides playing ball, ended the mid-year with a ding-dong 92.3 average. Bill Halloran pulled the second 'hat-trick' of the season in last Sunday's hockey game...Bill was a star in Framingham (Mass.) during his high school days.

It's official...The latest Dunkel basketball rating places the Purple Knights as the top-ranked small college team in New England, and third ranked among all college behind Holy Cross and Dartmouth, who carry big-time schedules.

At last report, St. Anselm's basketball team will bring a 17-2 record into Wednesday night's tilt down in Manchester. On paper it looks impressive, but we should remember what type teams the Hawks have been playing...To say the least, it was not the type of schedule that our Knights play. However, look for a real good game with lots of fight on both sides of the court especially under the baskets...latest press releases from Manchester say that the Hawks are up for this one...and on their home court, too...

Reports on the two recent defeats suffered by the once high-riding Juniors in the interclass basketball loop say that over-confidence and lack of drive and hustle were the reasons for these losses...Before their downfall, the Juniors had taken six straight and seemed 'to be in'...The league is much better balanced now than at the start of the season...Hank Gretowski is the reason...His play for the Frosh has made them a team to be reckoned with...Now any of three teams can take the title...The Juniors, Seniors and Frosh all can cop the cup...unfounded rumor-the Sophs are still in the league(?). 'Till again, stay loose...
